

'Finest Police Work' Was S.D. 'Shoot-out,' Says Detective Moore

Detective Jim Moore, who serves the criminal division of the San Diego County Sheriff's office, told members of the Lemon Grove Men's club that the San Diego police action in the four-hour shoot-out in the city earlier this month was one of the finest demonstrations of police work the city had ever witnessed.

"There were thousands of people at the scene and thousands viewing it on television. Every act the police made was being watched. The fact that no person was hurt is a tribute to the men on duty. No braver scene could ever be shown than Sgt. Allen Brown, who first pulled the man from the doorway (Independent Editor Robert Crandall, who collapsed and later died of the heart attack) and later when Brown went into the store following the explosion of the second concussion grenade."

Detective Moore discussed informally with the members the job of policing in the east county area. He made the point that the men who serve recognize their duty of safeguarding the public. He described his fellow officers as sincere and hard working. In answer to a question he admitted that he had put in 12 hours on the job the day before and that such hours are not unusual.

The Men's club meets every Friday noon at Michael's for a no-host luncheon. All men of the area are invited to attend the get-togethers.

The program this week will be provided by Jerry Lewis, an executive of the San Diego Wholesale Credit Men's Assn. He will discuss "the events leading up to failure."

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

You Can't Tell the Players Without a Program

During the recent rainy spell an element of our county's finest — a sheriff's patrol car unit — spied a vehicle parked alongside a quiet road in the Spring Valley area during the wee hours.

Seeing two shadowy figures inside, the men in the patrol unit did as they are paid to do. They investigated. They found their fears entirely justified. Two middle-aged people, an unrelated couple were inside, and both, obviously, had been drinking.

The officers informed the tipsy but attractive lady that she was being taken into protective custody. The man would be released on his own recognizance.

As is the firm rule with the sheriff's unit, where a lady is transported in a patrol car, a sheriff's matron must accompany her.

Mrs. Hal Johnston of Massachusetts ave. in Lemon Grove is the Sheriff's matron for this area. Her husband is a local county deputy sheriff — the redoubtable guardian of the business section of the community.

While one officer stayed with the parked couple, the other drove the patrol car to the Johnston home to pick up the matron. Then back they went to the parked vehicle to pick up their charge.

Enroute to County Jail, the lady who was in custody of the police asked Mrs. Johnston for help. Her slacks needed zipping here and there, the problem being the result of the rigors of auto parking. She also gave Mrs. Johnston her earrings to hold and she asked Mrs. Johnston's aid for other feminine dainty adjustments, such as shoulder straps.

The lady was firmly ensconced at County Jail among other maidens who had run afoul of the law, the officers' report was filed, and the unit was returning Mrs. Johnston to her home when the shocking news came over the police car radio:

"Unit 711," the radio blared, "The lady you took in protective

Assessor To 'Open Records' In Lemon Grove Tuesday

Assessor's deputies will conduct an all day "Open Records" session Tuesday, April 27, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Lemon Grove Youth Center, School Lane, Lemon Grove.

Property owners who have been anxiously awaiting the results of the tax assessor's latest reappraisal will now find answers available.

County Assessor John McQuillen says assessments must be in proportion to market value of property and each value estimate made by his appraisers is based upon available information.

"The appraisal staff makes a thorough economic study of an area as well as a careful inspection of each property," he emphasized. "Any new information brought to the attention of the appraisers at this Open Record session may still be given consideration in making the assessment."

"We are simply trying to help property owners to have an intelligent understanding of the assessment process," he added.

Lemon Grove was last appraised for 1959, but McQuillen now has the entire county on a four-year cycle of review.

Areas reappraised for 1965-66 include:

Lemon Grove; El Cajon; Imperial Beach; South Bay, and Old Town to Hillcrest in San Diego; Miramar Road north to and including Rancho Bernardo; Poway; Del Mar; Solano Beach; Cardiff; Rancho Santa Fe; Encinitas; Vista; Carlsbad; Oceanside.

The "Open Record" session is for the convenience of area residents. After that date, assessment information will be available at the Assessor's Office, 103 County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, and at branch offices located at 248 West Main st., El Cajon, and 325 South Melrose dr., Vista.

TOPLESS A-GO-GO

Cops Ground 'Space Bunny'

It may be a long time before this astronaut returns. She was 'orbited' out of her job last week by some earthbound cops.

Margaret Ethel Rasmussen, 18, of 3327 Del Rey st., San Diego, was arrested by the sheriff's juvenile department while she was performing Saturday as a "space bunny" at a Lemon Grove cafe called the Space Bunny. It is at 7268 Broadway.

The sheriff's department cited Miss Rasmussen for using a fake ID card and for making a false statement on a Department of Motor Vehicles license form.

The Space Bunny cafe, 7268 Broadway, Lemon Grove, is a beer bar. It has been featuring "Topless Go-Go" girls. The sheriff's report said Miss Rasmussen was one of the featured performers.

A copy of the report was filed with the Alcoholic Beverage Control department. 21 is the legal age for females being admitted to or performing in cafes where alcoholic beverages are dispensed.

Forgery Charge Jails L.G. Man

SAN DIEGO (CNA3) — Robert Lester Lavyn Wardell, 19, 7445 Pacific ave., Lemon Grove, has been ordered to county jail for six months as a condition of three years probation after pleading guilty to forgery.

Superior Court Judge Gerald C. Thomas imposed the sentence and ordered Wardell to pay restitution of $233.50 to the various victims of the forgeries.

La Presa Liquor, and Thriftmart of Spring Valley and various service stations were the victims. According to the probation report, Wardell in early February, 1965, "While walking past an unoccupied vehicle in Chula Vista, he noticed a check book lying on the dash board. He reached in and took the check book. The blank checks were imprinted with the name of James W. Byrne or Mary C. Byrne."

The report said that Wardell made the checks out to himself and forged Byrne's name on the checks. Wardell told the probation officer that he had intended at first to get a job and repay the victims but that the amount got too high for any hope of immediately repayment.

Wardell has been arrested as a drunk minor and for traffic counts and had a 90 day jail sentence for failure to appear on traffic violations.

An 11-year old girl and a playmate, returning on Kenora st. in Spring Valley from the store to the home of one of the girls were accosted Friday afternoon by a young man driving a black Plymouth Barracuda. According to the sheriff's report, the girls told one of the mothers that he had made a lewd suggestion to one of them, and when they ran he drove away.

Nudge Ahead Your Clocks Sat. Night

If your pastor looks sleepy Sunday at the morning service (provided you get there on time) it'll be because of the time change. It's Daylight Savings Time again and he had to get up an hour earlier.

Sunday is when you nudge the hour hand of your clock ahead one digit. If you arise at the time you normally do, without having changed your clock, you'll be running a hour behind the rest of the time zone.

Most people will move their clock ahead Saturday night and not have to worry about the clock changing chore at 1 a.m.

The change comes annually on the last Sunday of April. Standard Time returns on the last Sunday of October.

Many people wish that the country would stay on Daylight Time all year and not have to juggle clocks. We are one of them.

L.G. Fire Board Meeting Monday

The Lemon Grove Local Fire District Board of Commissioners will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the fire station on Central ave.

It will be the first official meeting with the newly elected Commissioner John L. Hall seated on the board. Hall was sponsored by a group in which district employed firemen were active.

In the election April 6, Hall defeated incumbent Skip Heidlick and former commissioner Robert Vaught. Vaught was similarly defeated by Commissioner Parker Shumate in a previous election. In that election, Shumate was sponsored by a group in which several firemen were identified.

Hall has refused to reveal to this publication his background, his employment or his program. It is believed that some of these will be revealed at the budget hearing soon to be set. Firemen's raises, retirement and pensions may be matters for discussion at that time.

GOD'S MINUTE

REV. H. C. BAKKEN

"THE CROSS"

The cross is the real altar of the Christian church. The altar was a place of sacrifice. Through Old Testament times countless animals died in the place of sinners. Jesus died on the cross bringing all animal sacrifices to an end and validating all prior sacrifices for sin. Here, at the cross, Jesus the Lamb of God, gave His life for mankind.

custody at 2 a.m. has been examined at County Jail. She's a man!"

Any reasonable observer of the local scene would have come up with some logical considerations as a result of that night-time escapade.

One consideration is the smug assurance that the cops don't know everything — and it would be demanding too much to expect them to be able to recognize the contents of a package by its label.

The other consideration would be sympathy for the guy who picked his playmate up in some bar, probably, and who perhaps blew $15 or $20 on booze until "she" was willing to park.

He'll feel outdone when he reads here that he was not enjoying drinks with an attractive, friendly lady but that he was wasting his money on a male stranger.

Book Damage Is Shameful

Ruth Pedler, the sincerely concerned head lady at the Lemon Grove Branch of the County Library says it's a shame.

A brand new set of encyclopedias was mutilated, presumably by students. How does she know it to be students? The mutilated pages coincide with assignments given at Mt. Miguel high school.

The set of books cost the taxpayer $299. Mrs. Pedler points out. More important, it deprives the library patron of the use of the knowledge that has been taken from the book.

The damage is not analogous to the Lemon Grove library. It's happening all over the county. Four volumes of World Book Encyclopedia have been replaced in the few short weeks because of thievery and mutilation at other libraries.

The library makes use of a copying machine so that copies of parts of pages may be taken away. There is no need for mutilating valuable books.

We are citing Mrs. Pedler's complaint in hope that some of the youngsters who thought cutting pages from library books was of no consequence would learn that they are wrong.

Books to many are sacred for therein is the knowledge of the world.

We are not sure what it is the sign of, but there are a growing number of business firms whose bills from their auditors is bigger than their tax bill.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dogs Taken to Shelter Not Put up for Adoption

Dear Editor:

Recently my heart broke a little when I had to send a little stray dog to his death. I wrote a letter similar to this at the time, but made one of the several mistakes in sending it to the San Diego paper instead of you, where its publication MIGHT have saved his life.

I don't expect to stop man's inhumanity to animals (some of course) by this letter, but through some things I learned maybe I can spare someone the heartache and lump in the throat I have.

My son found a dachshund hunting dog type of dog, little more than a puppy, huddled in the corner of our small entryway porch at the front of our house. He had the biggest, clearest eyes I have ever seen, full of all the sorrows of the world. What impressed most was the air of complete resignation, of silent acceptance, the utter lack of hope, and the total silence in an animal so young.

Until that little dog came to us I had thought "scared stiff" was an expression only. The first time I petted him I knew it was an actuality. He didn't cringe, whimper nor flinch. He stood huddled, head averted and every inch of him was stiff with terror. If he expected blows, he had no intention of trying to avoid them.

I can't understand how anyone could be cruel to an animal, but with papers so full of cruelty to children, suppose I shouldn't be surprised.

I took him out the two dishes of food I had prepared for my three animals plus the water and milk. He wouldn't touch it while I was near, but I was no sonner in the house than everything was gone. I fed him about every two hours determined that he wouldn't be hungry if nothing else.

I phoned everyone and did everything I could to find a home for him. He didn't have a collar nor a tag. How I wished he'd snarl or act mean, but he never uttered a sound the day and a half he was with us never changed his attitude of abject submission.

I asked my husband if I couldn't keep him as an outside dog, but he replied that three animals were enough.

When there was nothing left I phoned the Spring Valley animal shelter. Too late I remembered that I could have taken him to the San Diego Humane Society where they would have tried to find him a home. Too late I discovered that the Shelter did not release dogs for adoption, only to owners who claimed them.

The man from the Shelter was very nice. He sat by the dog while I was petting him. I had just brought him his last meal and for the first time he cocked his head at the sound of my voice and lifted that sad tail and wagged it. That completely did me in. I wish I had told the man to go away I'd find some place for the dog.

The dog looked from one to the other, still no sound, just that awful resignation. The man said the dog had obviously been beaten and probably abandoned because the owner did not want to buy a license and get the shots.

He slipped the noose of the rope over the dog's neck and still the dog didn't make a sound nor object. Then he gently tugged the rope and spoke to the dog, telling him to come. This time the dog braced all four little feet and pitted his puny strength against the rope, shaking his head. I thought, my heart would burst right then and there. I didn't know ever then I could have told him to go and leave the dog.

I asked him if he couldn't pick the dog up and carry him. I would have. He said no, that if he did and the dog bit him his insurance would be void.

Then he picked the dog up by the scruff of his neck like a kitten and carried him out to the truck, not even putting his hand under the poor dangling legs. The dog was put in, still without a sound.

The man told me that even in the small shelter they picked up about 600 strays a month — of that amount only 10% were claimed.

He added that they had the most merciful death, the decomposition chamber. The dog becomes very sleepy and in a few seconds fall over asleep permanently.

I asked him if he would tell me if anyone claimed the dog if I phoned. He said no it was against the policy.

He added that unlicensed dogs were kept three days, licensed dogs a week. I wondered why, if they had the license, the Shelter didn't check the number and notify the owner.

He told me that no one but the owner could claim the dog.

Too late I found out that a kind lady in my Spanish class would have given him a home. I told her there was still time if we went right over, but she said there was a question of daily board plus tags and shots and license that she couldn't afford it even if I paid half.

All this I didn't know, or I wouldn't have called so quickly. I thought the dog would go away the first night as mysteriously as he had arrived, but he didn't.

The man also told me that I would be sickened at the things people did to pets. He added that it didn't do any good to take someone to court on abandonment charges even when you could find them. Because of this, they get discouraged, understandably.

I know I did everything I could for that poor little dog. In a mere day and a half I loved him and wanted him. But that does not stop the lump in my throat. I know I must put it out of my mind, for no amount of grieving or recrimination will bring his life back.

I wish something could be done to make people realize their responsibility to their pets, or some more stringent laws could be passed before a person could have a pet. They should have to prove they want it and will take care of it.

People who are considering having dogs picked up by our animal shelter might think twice if they know they cannot be adopted.

Sincerely,

Mrs. G. G. "Candy" Walker

County's Agricultural Production Up $18,000,000 To $129,918,450 High

San Diego County's 1964 agricultural crop production was valued at $129,918,450, it was reported by James M. Moon, County Agricultural Commissioner. This total exceeds the previous high, in 1962, by more than eighteen million dollars. Indications early in 1965, however, are that growers in some portions of the county are planting less than their normal acreages because of uncertainty about adequate labor supplies. Crops and products exceeding one million dollars in value were:

PLANT CROPS

Tomatoes $26,108,000
Oranges 13,585,000
Flowers 7,194,000
Avocados 7,145,000
Nursery Stock 5,909,000
Celery 3,359,000
Lemons 2,785,000
Snap Beans 2,506,000
Cabbage 1,260,000

LIVESTOCK PRODUCTS

Eggs $25,116,000
Milk 13,716,000

Cattle for Beef 5,934,000
Miscellaneous Poultry 1,937,000
Tomatoes again took first place in importance as the county's most valuable single crop, with eggs in second place. Weather conditions were favorable for both the spring and fall tomato crops in 1964, and for a short period toward the end of the year, San Diego County was the only source of fresh tomatoes in the western United States. Although the county's egg production increased, as was predicted, the price received per dozen was lower, resulting in only a small increase in total value over that of 1963. Of particular interest in 1964 was the great increase in Valencia orange values. More acreage came into bearing, the yield per acre was almost double that of the previous year, and the price was up slightly, all of which resulted in a total value almost three times as that of the 1963 crop. Other citrus crops, with the exception of grapefruit, also showed notable increases. In the next few years, with favorable prices, these values should continue to grow.

LAUNDRY BURGLARIES

A clutch of automatic laundry burglaries were reported to the sheriff's sub-station here. Morey and laundry was the loot. Ruba-Dub's at 9027 Campo rd. Casa de Oro, lost $15 in nickels and dimes from its automatic coin changer.

Economy Wash, 7272 Broadway, Lemon Grove, suffered a similar loss. $9 was removed from the coin machine with considerable damage being done to it.

Mrs. Dorothy King, of 1941 Fairhaven st., Lemon Grove, told police her laundry, valued at $30, was removed from a machine at Laundromat, Imperial and Cypress.

HUBCAPS GONE

Four hubcaps were taken from the auto of Allie Veater, 422 Grand ave., Spring Valley, while it was parked in front of her home during the night hours.

Deputies Have a Busy Week

In front of her house, damaging the finish of the car and breaking the bottle in the street.

DENTIST LOSES $183

Dr. Dennis L. McLaughlin, dentist practicing at 1411 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove, reported to sheriff's office that sometime between Saturday evening and Monday morning $183 disappeared from the fire box of the safe in his business office. Cash, endorsed checks and money orders are missing, he told officers.

ARRESTED IN CAR CASE

Charles S. Clark, 9810 Huron st., Spring Valley, and Benny Dale Klassy, a sailor, were arrested by Lemon Grove sheriff's deputies and booked in the county jail after officers observed the pair dismantling many articles in Clark's back yard, including auto parts.

Police charge that a number of the auto parts were taken from a 1964 aqua-colored Ford parked along Galapagos st., Spring Valley. They say the car was stolen from near the San Diego Naval Station.

JUNIOR CLUB WOMEN

Workshops, awards presentations and reports on a year of philanthropic and club activities will be the highlights of the San Diego district junior membership convention Friday and Saturday of the California Federation of Women's Clubs at the U. S. Grant Hotel.

Friday's program includes a luncheon, and after-lunch meeting, a 6 o'clock reception, and a banquet at 7. Saturday will be given over to workshops.

BUCKET SEATS STOLEN

The bucket seats from William Martin's 1965 Mustang were stolen Sunday while the car was parked in front of his house during the evening hours. Martin, who lives at 1535 Larwood, Lemon Grove, said that a thief got into the car by prying open a window. A rainstorm caused further damage to the car's interior.

CLUE FOUND IN GARBAGE
Bennie Crickman, 50, of 3250 Harris st., Lemon Grove, told sheriff's deputies that garbage and trash had been dumped in his yard twice, recently. The last batch was examined and some envelopes with a suspect's name provided a clue for detectives to follow.

GOLFER'S DILEMMA
Glen Slater, 41, of San Diego parked for a moment of recreation at Valley Crossroads last Sunday. When he emerged from the spa, which is at Sweetwater and Jamacha blvd., in Spring Valley at 5 p.m., his golfing equipment was gone from his car.

Missing were three woods, eight irons, a putter, a sand wedge and two dozen golf balls. The golf bag was missing too. The car door was left open by the thief.

SCHOOL WINDOW SHOT OUT
BBs, pellets or a .22 slug was responsible for a broken window at Kempton school last week. The gun user broke a 3x8 glass window which school officials say will cost $100 to replace.

CAR RETURNED, NO PLATES
Paul Zerbo, of 8810 Delrose, Spring Valley, lost his car for several hours during the evening last week. It was taken between the hours of 8:30 p.m. and 1 a.m. Sunday. The next morning the car was back but the license plates were missing. The license number: KTV 064.

RODS MISSING

Two fishing rods were stolen from the garage of Mrs. Alfred Clark's home recently, she told police. It had been a long time since they were used so she didn't know just when the burglary occurred.

SURFBOARD STOLEN

A surfboard valued at $125 was reported stolen from the garage at the home of David F. Cox, of 8152 Dorchester st., Spring Valley.

The board is 9'5" clear, with a redwood stripe down the middle. He gave police the name of a suspect and the serial number of the board.

Dad-Son Show Set Friday at Encanto

Boys and their dads will make it an evening together Friday from 7 to 9 at the Encanto Recreation Center, 65th and Wunderrin.

The occasion is Father-Sons Sports Night. The show will feature stars in a number of sports, including karate, fencing, wrestling, gymnastics, judo, and archery.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the recreation center or may be obtained at the door. Refreshments will be sold at the show.

There will also be door prizes. It was reported by Bill Soule, director.

'Play Ball' Will Ring Out From Little League Fields

For Little League baseball teams throughout the Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, and La Mesa area the word Saturday and Sunday will be . . . "Play Ball!"

SPRING VALLEY

Spring Valley Little League will have opening season ceremonies at the field on Sweetwater Ln. between Harness and Jamacha rds. Sunday, beginning at 1 p.m.

Michael Winkelman, who played "Little Luke" in the Real McCoys TV series, has been invited.

This year there will be eight major teams, ten minors and four rookies. Orville Schuff is president. The list of teams and sponsors, managers and coaches, will be run at a later date.

VALLEY de ORO

Opening ceremonies for the 1965 season of the Valley de Oro Little League, are scheduled for Sunday at 1:30 p.m. on the S. V. Junior High School Little League Field.

The teams, sponsors, managers and coaches will be introduced and each player will be in action for a while.

This league has six major teams, six minors, and six banner teams. Lyle Bond, TV sportscaster, is expected to attend and give a talk to the boys.

CAJON de ORO

Opening ceremonies for the 1965 season of Cajon de Oro Little League is scheduled for Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Foster Field, Russell rd. and Fuerte.

All the teams - six majors, six minors, and four cap teams - will be introduced along with the managers.

Following introductions, there will be three two-inning games by the six major teams. The regular season will get under way during the coming week.

Since its establishment, the Marine Corps has made approximately 300 landings on foreign shores which may explain why it is called "a force in readiness."

Girls In Demand For Lemon Grove Softball League

The Lemon Grove girls softball league formed three years ago has served approximately 200 girls in the Lemon Grove area.

Coaches and managers give their free time, and umpires are volunteers. Each girl pays a fee to cover insurance and equipment charges.

This year the league is attempting to get started before school is out. The league will finish at the same time as the Lemon Grove Little League so the family vacations will not be interfered with.

League age groups are 8-11 and 12-15. Players interested in signing up may call Mrs. Maxine Nelson at 469-9055 or Mrs. Elsie Gillem, 469-9060.

To date 400 girls have signed. Junior High School age girls are particularly needed in the 12-15 year-old league.

Share Your Gloves, Athlete Tells Kids

"Share your baseball gloves with other kids. Take care of your sports equipment."

Advice like this was given April 8 by Earl Faison, defensive end for the San Diego Chargers, to the youngsters at Casa de Oro Elementary School in Spring Valley.

Faison told the children of the primary grades that as a boy he and his friends valued their games equipment and shared what they had.

In his talk to the Casa de Oro intermediate grade youngsters he stressed the need for training, for learning techniques of playing and for applying them.

Faison told Principal Vincent Toth that boys and girls he speaks to ask him as many questions about life and education as they do about sports.

THE LOW-DOWN — Earl Faison (l) Chargers athlete, is being introduced by Principal Vincent Toth to children of Casa de Oro Elementary school before giving them the low-down on sportsmanship in a recent talk.

Cycle, Super Stock Races Slated Saturday, Sunday

Cajon Speedways 1965 season opener Friday night will bring 70 of the top American Motorcycle Assn. riders to town for the first of 11 Tourist Trophy thrillers.

On Saturday night the year's super stock car season will open. El Cajon Stock Car president and 1964 Champion Russ Bullen have signed a racing agreement with track officials calling for 23 sanctioned racing dates at the speedway during the rest of 1965.

The biggest names and the fastest machines will ply the newly finished half-mile T.T. course.

An 8 p.m. arc light affair will see a 16 race expert and amateur program of both light-weight and open class machines. 250 and 500 cc bikes will get the real test of wear as they battle for the checker flag.

Local hot shots like Bob Emde, Johnny Apple and Ron Lacher will be tangling wheels with Mike Cook and Chief Eler of Escondido, in the light weight class.

In the open class big bikes Pierre Raby and Leo St. Germaine will attempt to hold off out of towners like Jack Simmons of Artesia and Skip Van Leeuwen from La Habra.

La Mesa Little League Opens Season Saturday

Saturday will mark the opening of the 1965 baseball season for La Mesa Little League.

The youthful players will parade in their team uniforms from the police station to Kulkken Field at 10 a.m.

At 1 p.m. the Youth Center Drum Corps will conduct the flag raising ceremonies; the Mayor, the City Manager and department heads of the city of La Mesa, and sponsors of Little League teams will be introduced. The boys will be introduced by team, along with their managers, coaches and team mothers.

At the close of the ceremonies the major teams will take to the field, and each team will play two innings of ball.

A severe drought has hit Puerto Rico.

Angler's Angles

A FISHY COLUMN

By JIM HURLEY

More than 800 fishermen descended upon Lake Murray Saturday and Sunday. Trout is the predominant fish in this lake. The largest caught was two-and-a-half pounds. The average catch was two fish per fisherman, with an average weight between one-half and one pound . . . Not bad. The lake is open Wednesday through Sunday. Trout are planted every Thursday.

El Capitan drew 400 fishermen Saturday and Sunday. The largest bass weighed 6-3/4 pounds . . . and that is some fish! This is an excellent bass lake. They are deep, so use crawfish, bombers, or rubber worms. This lake is open Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday.

There were 908 anglers at Jennings Lake Saturday and Sunday. A total of 1,675 trout, weighing 927 pounds, were landed. A hundred and ninety-nine fishermen got limits. That is darn good fishin!

Sutherland Dam, eight miles past Ramona, opened April 21. It is open Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays. This is an excellent bass lake.

Lower Otay Lake will open May 5.

Some of you have wondered if I do much fishing. Actually, I plan many more trips than are accomplished. This is due to the fact that my fishing partner is more fickle than the proverbial high school sweet heart.

He is the type of person who says all the tent is in one box. However, it turns out that due to the lack of something to hold this tent up, we slept on it instead of in it. This happened to be in the Sierras with snow in the air. Bet you couldn't guess who planned that trip! To top it off . . . He was to put up the tent while yours truly cooked. Well . . . a deal is a deal . . .

16 BIG POUNDS — Rudy Hendrix, 12, of 1749 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove, manages to hold up the 16-pound carp he caught last weekend at Lake Murray on an 8-pound-test line. The Palm junior high seventh-grader said it took him about 20 minutes to get the monster to the surface.

BOAT FIRE EXTINGUISHERS MUST CONFIRM JUNE 1

SACRAMENTA — California's Division of Small Craft Harbors has issued the following reminder to pleasure boaters:

Effective June 1, 1965, U. S. Coast Guard approval of dry chemical fire extinguishers will require that those of the stored-pressure type be equipped with a pressure gauge or other pressure indicating device. Dry chemical fire extinguishers of the stored-pressure type not equipped with a pressure gauge or indicating device will meet Coast Guard approval if they are maintained in good, serviceable condition and their weight does not fall below one-quarter ounce less than that stamped on the container.

The U. S. Navy has been performing aerial hurricane reconnaissance since 1943.
